

EDUCATION: READING, LANGUAGE, & LITERACY CONCENTRATION, MASTER OF EDUCATION

The Master of Education (MEd) program at CSU Pueblo is designed to enhance the quality of teaching and learning in PK–12 classrooms by preparing master teachers with deep expertise in their content areas, effective teaching practices, and ongoing professional development.

The Reading, Language, and Literacy concentration includes 18 credit hours of graduate-level coursework focused on reading, language, and literacy. These courses strengthen both content knowledge and pedagogical skills, and provide the academic foundation necessary to teach in higher education settings—such as concurrent enrollment programs, community colleges, or four-year institutions.

Graduate Admission Policies & Procedures

Admission

Regular status will be given to degree-seeking students who meet all of the following requirements:

- A baccalaureate degree from an institution accredited by the regional accreditation agency (or equivalent).
- A minimum 3.000 cumulative GPA. Conditional admission may be granted for candidates with cumulative GPAs lower than 2.500, but whose recent graduate GPA (at least 15 hours) is above 3.000
- A letter of interest that outlines the candidate's reason(s) for applying to the M.Ed. program and how they expect to both benefit from and contribute to it.
- Two recommendations from Individuals who can speak to potential success in graduate school.
- Significant teaching experience. Candidates must provide documentation of the quantity and quality of this experience within their letter of interest.

International students whose native language is not English must also meet the English language proficiency standard set forth in the Graduate Admissions section of the CSU-Pueblo Catalog.

Continuation

To continue in the program, students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.000.

Program Completion

All students must fulfill the following requirements for a graduate degree:

- A cumulative graduate GPA of 3.000 or better at graduation. A maximum of six semester hours of course work at the grade of C+ or C may be applied toward graduation. A maximum number of nine semester hours of transfer credit may be applied to the degree.
- Regular student status.
- The program's minimum number of hours of approved course work (38 semester hours).

- Completion of a final portfolio review and oral examination. The portfolio project includes a directed research project.
- Submission of a graduation planning sheet signed by the student's graduate advisor and program director, in accordance with published deadlines during the semester is to occur. The deadline for submission is published in the Semester Notes, University Calendar, and CSU Pueblo Catalog.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate growth in content knowledge related to concentration area and the application of content knowledge to classroom instruction and assessment.

Program Overview

| Requirement | Credits |
|----------------------------|-----------|
| Core Requirements | 11 |
| Pedagogy Requirements | 9 |
| Concentration Requirements | 18 |
| Total Credits | 38 |

Specific Program Requirements

The degree is designed with three components:

1. Core courses in research and professional change;
2. Pedagogy courses in literacy, differentiation of instruction, and technology; and
3. Courses in a concentration area chosen by the graduate student.

A unique feature of the degree is its alignment with the standards of the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards and participants' opportunity to work towards national board certification as they complete the degree.

Component 1: Core Requirements (11 hours)

Organizational change and school reform, as well as the responsibilities of professional leadership related to educational change, are emphasized in the core. The four courses in Component 1 are to be taken sequentially with the final course completed as the capstone experience in the program. It is like your master's defense course. All courses focus on knowledge and skills related to teacher change and leadership as a change agent in the schools. Concentration in interpreting and conducting research is included.

Students must have a valid teaching credential to take the Core courses.

Component 3: Concentration Area Requirements (18 hours in one area)

The more deeply teachers grasp content, the more they tend to emphasize conceptual, problem solving, and inquiry aspects of their subjects. The less knowledgeable teachers are of the content they are teaching, the more they tend to emphasize facts and procedures. The purpose of Component 3 of the program is the development of teachers' content expertise related to their area of responsibility, with candidates choosing among a number of different K-12 concentration areas. Some areas require prerequisites, and an concentration area should be chosen with the advisement of their graduate advisor.
