

PHILOSOPHY & RELIGIOUS STUDIES, MINOR

Through the minor in philosophy and religious studies, students explore questions of life, creation, knowledge, society, and culture through an array of philosophical and historical perspectives and traditions. Students also apply philosophical ideas and methods to their professional interests and personal passions.

Students can take one of two tracks. In the philosophy track, students study the great thinkers, from Plato to the present, across Western and non-Western intellectual traditions. The religion track has students understanding the tenets, history, and impact of Christianity, Islam, Judaism, Hinduism, Buddhism, Sikhism, and other religions across cultures.

Expected Student Outcomes

- Students will be able to recognize, analyze, and logically evaluate arguments encountered in sources ranging from philosophical and academic texts to the popular media.
- Students will be able to construct and present clear, well-reasoned defenses of these both verbally and in writing.
- Students will be able to recognize and assess the relevance of philosophical and religious ideas in the historical interplay of philosophy, religion, and culture.
- Students will be able to apply philosophical methods to conduct ethical, metaphysical, and epistemological analyses.

Outcomes Assessment Activities

The coordinator of the Philosophy Program maintains a portfolio for each student with a declared minor in philosophy and religious studies. Portfolios include a student's major papers written for the courses, transcripts, and other pertinent information. Student portfolios, in conjunction with other direct and indirect measures, form the basis for evaluating expected outcomes.
